1. Although no self-respecting adult of any social category accepts Communism, it is beginning to have some effect on school children under fourteen years who have little or no knowledge of any other regime.
2. Communist doctrine is also having some effect on many students in institutions of higher education. Since higher education is available only to those who fulfill certain family requirements and therefore have no roots in the old regime, and likewise assures them of a privileged and fairly easy existence, the attachment to a Communist regime that promises them so much for the future is understandable.
